

Large Number Of Exhibits Entered In West End Fair Today

THOUSANDS OF VISITORS WILL STREAM into the West End Fairgrounds at Gilbert this morning as the 31st annual fair gets under way. In this typical scene, fair-goers are milling past the concession stands in the tree-shaded main portion of the fairgrounds. Judging begins at 8 this morning, after which no more exhibits may be entered. (Daily Record photo)

Thousands Of Persons To Converge On Gilbert For Annual Renewal Of Fair

Gilbert—Some old-time Monroe County residents define a "year" as "an interval of time between two West End Fairs."

Folks like these, who can't quite resist the lure of genuine county fairs, won't be found at their homes today. They'll be at the West End Fair here—probably from shortly after dawn until long after dusk.

The judges start making their rounds at 8 a. m. Fair officials said last night they didn't know what exhibits would be the first to undergo the critical inspection of judges.

Judging will proceed throughout most of the day, will wind up toward late afternoon if the same pattern emerges as in previous years.

Down at one end of the fair grounds will be the annual assortment of rides, merry-go-round, ferris wheel, games, with some of the wilder motorized devil-rides for the more adventurous.

Of course hiking about the fairgrounds will raise powerful appetites. With this in mind fair officials have stocked the fair restaurant with a variety of full course meals including the famous sauerkraut made by fair association members. Food and soft drinks also will be on sale at luncheon stands.

Last night, fair spokesmen said nearly all the equipment for the fair show was in place. Salesmen and demonstrators will be on hand to show residents and farmers the uses of new devices, put on the market since last year's fair and farm show.

A Red Cross tent will be set up and operating when the first visitors stream into the grounds. Last year the nurses had little to do but console a few lost children, doctor a few minor cuts or bumps.

Entries in the vegetable and crop divisions were reported running fairly heavy last night. There were also good turnouts in the poultry, swine, home economics, fruit, baked goods and needlework classes.

A fair official said entries in the livestock classes were on the light side, but this followed the usual pattern; most farmers preferred to enter livestock in the morning after the animals have been milked, fed, watered, and before judging starts.

As in years past, a full professional band will supply music throughout the one-day fair. The band today will be the Bensalem band from near Lehigh. The concert is given from the bandstand in the center of the fairgrounds.

Also in use this year will be the $3,000 swine pen erected on the fairgrounds last year. There is a charge for parking at the fair but no admission charge.

Oil City Man Elks' President

Erie (AP) — About 1,800 Elks, attending their annual state convention, yesterday elected Harry T. Kievan of Oil City as their new president. He succeeds M. Earl Pitzer of Gettysburg.

Other new officers are: Vice president, Barney W. Wentz, administrator of Ashland State Hospital; secretary, William Gould, Scranton; treasurer, Charles Brown, Pittsburgh; three-year trustee, William B. Forsythe, Kane; two-year trustee, John J. Nyland, Kittanning.

FPC Files Exception In Local Case

A 20-day "waiting" period following a ruling by a Federal Power Commission examiner that subsidiaries of the Columbia Gas System, Inc., should supply Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg, Bangor and Pen Argyl gas companies with natural gas expired yesterday.

While there was no definite information last night as to whether Columbia Gas had requested a review of the examiner's report within the 20-day period, The Associated Press in Washington advised The Daily Record that staff counsel for the FPC had filed an exception to the report on technical grounds, and a commission review is thereby necessary.

Examiner Emery J. Woodall held on Aug. 7 that the Manufacturers Light and Heat Co., Pittsburgh, a subsidiary of Columbia should supply gas to the Bangor Gas Co., Pen Argyl Gas Co. and Citizens Gas Co. of Stroudsburg.

At that time an official of the Citizens gas company said work would probably begin as soon as the 20-day "waiting" period passes without request for "reviews."

Some 2,800 regular consumers would be involved in the switch.

Egypt Asks U.S. Economic, Military Aid

Cairo, Egypt (AP) — Egypt's reform government yesterday appealed for American economic aid and U.S. arms for a mobile police force to maintain internal order.

Premier Aly Maher conferred with U.S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery and strongman Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib last night on the proposals and then announced them to reporters.

The government has already had to use force to keep order since it kicked King Farouk off the throne a month ago and believes that only better living conditions for the workers will bring about a stable, strong Egypt able to resist Communist penetration.

There appeared to be no connection between last night's bid for U.S. help and Western plans to set up a Middle East Defense Command in which Egypt has been asked to be a key partner.

Riots Occur At POW Camps

Seoul (AP) — Disorders boiled anew this month on turbulent Koje Island, the U. S. Eighth Army belatedly reporting one Communist war prisoner killed and 52 wounded in four outbreaks.

The Army in three piecemeal announcements yesterday also reported a fifth disorder on Cheju Island. Thousands of prisoners were sent there after the reign of Red terror in Koje prison camps was broken by firm Allied measures earlier this year.

Unlike the flaring violence on Koje, the Cheju show of defiance was put down without bloodshed, the Army said. Both islands are off the southern coast of Korea.

The first outbreak on Koje, where presumably the Army had stifled the rebellious spirit of hardcore Communists, occurred Aug. 11. The other incidents erupted over a period ending Aug. 23.

Jet Crosses Atlantic Twice In Ten Hours

Alder Grove Air Field, Northern Ireland (AP) — A British twin-jet Canberra bomber hurtled across the Atlantic Ocean to Newfoundland and back yesterday in the record smashing time of 10 hours, 20 minutes.

It was the first time any plane had made the round trip in one day.

The veteran three-man crew, headed by Wing Comdr. Roland Beamont, had breakfast before leaving, ate a mid-morning snack during a two-hour refueling stop at Gander, Nfld., and got back in time for tea.

"We had a very nice trip," Beamont said as he climbed from the cockpit.

The unofficial flying time for the fantastic 4,144-mile round trip was recorded by the plane's makers, the English Electric Co., as seven hours, 59 minutes.

Headwinds up to 140 miles an hour slowed the slim black craft on its race westward with the sun, but helped its twin jet engines on the way back.

The company said it made the 2,072-mile return journey in three hours, 25 minutes—an average speed of 606 miles an hour and a new record for the West-East crossing.

All the timing records are subject to official confirmation.

The eastbound flight easily broke the official record for a West-to-East crossing made by two Germans, Capt. A. Henke and R. von Moreau, in a Focke Wolf Kondor in 1938. The Germans made an average speed of only 199 miles an hour with a flight of 19 hours, 55 minutes from New York to Berlin.

Various planes, commercial and military, have bettered that time in crossing the Atlantic during and since World War Two, but never under official conditions.

Beamont, 32-year-old British test pilot, said the entire round trip was made by dead reckoning because of failure to maintain contact with two weather ships as planned.

The United States already has a bigger and faster jet bomber, the six-engine B-47, which has a cruising speed of more than 600 miles an hour and a range of over 3,000 miles.

September 13 Last Day For You To Register For General Election

By Peter Olwyler

Exactly WHY haven't you registered yet? Saturday morning's your only chance to sleep late? You thought you didn't have to register to vote? You don't want to get mixed up in that stuff? There's no difference between the parties? You didn't know there was a time limit? Your party probably will win anyway?

You just haven't got around to it? You'll get picked up for taxes? You leave politics to menfolk? Couldn't get a baby sitter? You never go out at night? The car's being repaired? Your vote doesn't count? Politics are dirty? It was raining? You forgot?

The first question on the list should be embarrassing to any American citizen.

The "answers" (rationalizations) should be just as embarrassing. Nevertheless these are the types of answers that one out of five potential Monroe County voters will dream up for himself after Sept. 13 has faded into history.

Sept. 13—just 17 days off—is the last day for registering for voting in the election this November.

Stevenson To Speak Today

By The Associated Press

Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois invades New York City today in a bid to ignite an eastern boom before setting out on a whirlwind nine-state western tour.

The Democratic presidential standard bearer is scheduled to address the American Legion Convention at Madison Square Garden on the same rostrum where his Republican rival, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, spoke earlier this week.

Like Eisenhower, Stevenson is expected to center his talk on U. S. foreign policy.

Meanwhile, key advisers said Eisenhower, who has been criticized by some of his own supporters for what they consider a slow start, said the general will set his campaign rolling in high gear from now on. They said he had deliberately set it at low speed because August headlines are soon forgotten.

Two GOP leaders—Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire and Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts—told newsmen after conferring with Eisenhower yesterday that the general will speak out very soon on major issues of the campaign.

Sen. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania, another challenger, indicated that Eisenhower will hit hard on the theme of inflationary federal spending.

Still another visitor, John Foster Dulles, asserted the Truman administration is "writing the ticket for World War Three" in its contain-Communism policies.

Dulles, former GOP adviser to the State Department, told newsmen after his meeting with the general that President Truman should declare this country will never accept Russia's domination over former independent nations.

In Washington, Mrs. Ivy Priest, head of the Women's Division of the Republican National Committee, said American housewives are "prepared to revolt" against the high prices and high taxes.

Armistice Talks Recessed Again

Munich, Korea (AP) — Allied and Communist truce negotiators recessed for another week today, 33 minutes after meeting for the first time in seven days.

They apparently accomplished nothing during the session.

Wayne County Family Found Living In Cave

A poverty stricken family of eight was found yesterday living in a cave on the side of a cliff near Beach Lake in Wayne County.

Honesdale authorities said Mr. and Mrs. William Van Gordon and their six children, ranging in age from 5 to 9, were taken to Honesdale and given shelter pending a further investigation of their plight.

Sheriff Edward Rieffer said the Van Gordon family moved into the cave three weeks ago. He said all the family were in good health when removed from the cave.

$65,000 Brink Theft Solved; Ex-Guard Held

Washington (AP) — A long memory and a quick hunch were credited yesterday with solving the $65,000 "out to lunch" robbery of a Brink's armored car within 18 hours after the apparently clueless crime was committed.

The theft occurred Monday while four guards of a Brink's truck, containing a total of $265,000, left the car locked but unattended and went to lunch.

Police said Ray Eugene Farmer, 26, a former Brink's guard, admitted the robbery after a night-long grilling, then took them to a nearby amusement park and showed them where he had buried the entire $65,000 in 13 packages of $5, $10 and $20 bills.

The money was there — every dollar of it. Police said Farmer apparently passed up the other $200,000 because it was in bills of large denomination and they are comparatively easy to trace.

The bold-as-brass theft was committed while Farmer was making his rounds as a bakery truck driver. His present employers expressed amazement at his arrest. So did Farmer's neighbors. They described him as a quiet man who always took his children to Sunday school.

Farmer was held on charges of grand larceny and bank robbery — much of the money taken was the property of banks. Police said he got into the armored car with a duplicate key which he failed to turn in when Brink's fired him three years ago.

Officials said police Supt. Robert V. Murray came up with the hunch that broke the case after relays of detectives had questioned the four Brink's guards for hours in a vain quest for clues. Ten FBI agents and 20 local policemen had been assigned to the case.

Murray remembered that a Brink's employee named Farmer was fired in 1949 for lending his guard's uniform to a bunch of teenage hoodlums known as the "Pimp Face Gang."

At the time, police found no grounds for holding Farmer.

Whitewash Attempted

Washington (AP) — Collis Lovely, member of the grand jury that tried the St. Louis income tax scandals told a House subcommittee yesterday the Justice Department tried to stop the investigation with a whitewash.

It's a pretty safe bet that Mr. or Mrs. One-Out-of-Five would manage to overcome some pretty tall obstacles if he or she thought the result would be worth it.

Can you imagine the type of answer above being given if the first question were: "Why didn't you go down and get that free $30 bill?"

Or how about if you were given one day to hire an employee at $190,000-a-year salary?

In that case you'd probably find a way to get there if it was sleeting, two o'clock in the morning, you had to travel a mile on foot and carry the baby yourself.

Yet you'll be hiring just that kind of employee on election day when you choose the man you want as president (at $100,000 salary, $30,000 tax-free expense account and $40,000 travel and entertainment expense). And if the opposition's man is elected, the weight of your opposing vote will tell him where to step lightly.

The job in question—the presidency—is the most important on the face of the earth. The man who holds it will lead America through some of the toughest, most fearful years in its or the world's history. His decisions will affect your grandchildren still unborn.

The way you will be "the" most important person in the world on election day is to share responsibility for choosing that man and others who will represent you.

And only by registering can you join the hiring crew.

90 Persons Registered At Tannersville, Mount Pocono

Special voting registrars were overworked and happy about it last night; they registered a total of 90 residents in three hours.

This brought the running total of those signed up at special registrations to 212 (an average of 53 a night).

The heaviest session was at Mount Pocono schoolhouse, where Chief Clerk Harry Taylor and Virginia Doll were working.

Here, the registrars came in not only from the Mount Pocono area but from Tunkhannock, Coaling, Pocono and Paradise Township districts as well.

Of those registered at the Mount Pocono session, 30 were Republican and 28 Democrat, a total of 58.

At the Tannersville schoolhouse, Grace Scheller and Dorothy Sandt signed up 34, of which there were 18 Republicans and 16 Democrats.

The breakdown for special registration so far is: Democrats 117; Republicans 92; Independent, 2.

Last night's big turnout followed an equally big day for registering at the commissioner's office in the courthouse.

Taylor said he has noted an abrupt rise in the numbers of persons coming in to register at the courthouse. "Something is stirring them up," he said.

At one point yesterday, Taylor said, two clerks in the commissioner's office had to lay aside the work they were doing in order to help the two regular registration clerks clear the log-jam of persons waiting to register.

Last day for registering is Sept. 13.

Lewis Rejects Appeal Against Mine Shutdown

Wilkes-Barre (AP) — A bristling John L. Lewis took over the United Mine Workers contract negotiations with the hard coal industry yesterday by rejecting an appeal by the operators that the nation's 475,000 hard and soft coal miners call off their 10-day "memorial" holiday.

Instead, the union chieftain reached an agreement that the contract negotiations — in which he personally participated for the first time yesterday — be moved to Washington on Sept. 3, two days after the end of the holiday now being observed by the miners.

The development came after Lewis and the operators conferred for about 90 minutes. A spokesman authorized to speak by both groups said the miners' "health and welfare fund and collateral matters," were discussed.

75,000 Veterans Take Part In Legion Parade

New York (AP) — A mighty army of "old soldiers"—and some fresh from new battlefields—marched up Fifth Avenue in one of the biggest American Legion parades in history.

Rank-on-rank they came, from morning until darkness fell.

Thousands estimated by police at up to three millions packed the sidewalks at times, as the stream of more than 75,000 veterans of three wars flowed along to the ruffle of countless drums.

The day-long display of the camaraderie of men-in-arms began at 10 a. m., under a radiant sun, and lasted until 8 p. m.

Only Known Survivors On Life Raft

Panama City, Fla. (AP) — Thirsty for drinking water was the chief worry of two weary airmen during a 24-hour battle in the storm-swept Gulf of Mexico in a life raft. They were brought here last night.

S. Sgt. Charles D. Jones, 31, of Meridian, Miss., and Airman 2C Peter R. Rosing, 22, of Ingleside, Ill., were the only known survivors of a B-17 bomber shot down by mistake Monday by a new-type automatically controlled jet fighter.

"We never had any doubts but that we would be picked up," said Jones, a sandy haired veteran of six years with the Air Force. "Our only real concern was whether we'd be able to last until we got some good drinking water."

Jones and Rosing were picked up by a Coast Guard minesweeper yesterday, then transferred to an Air Force rescue boat for an 18-mile run into Tyndall Air Force Base. A C-47 took them to the base hospital at Eglin Air Force Base north of here.

For security reasons, newsmen were not permitted to ask the rescued men about the accident which caused their plight.

Rosing, a stocky, black-haired youth, was brought off the crash boat on a stretcher. He suffered second and third degree burns about the hands and face when his plane caught fire. He also was suffering from shock, and medical administered plasma as soon as he arrived.

Jones said his first thought when the plane was hit was to jump, even though he'd never made a parachute jump before in his life.

"I was so excited I didn't have time to look around to see whether anyone else jumped," he said.

"It seemed like I was in the water about 20 minutes when a plane flew over me and dropped a life raft. Just as it hit the water, I saw Rosing close to me. We both swam for the raft, blew it up and got inside."

"The storm was kicking salt water into our eyes, nose and mouth and it was pretty tough going. We didn't say much to each other. In fact, I believe the only thing Rosing said to me at all during the night was 'Gosh, but I'd like a drink of fresh water.'"

"When daylight came we knew it would be only a question of time until we were picked up. It wasn't long before we saw a plane spotting us, and then we were picked up."

An Air Force C47 spotted the two in a life raft bobbing about in the gulf 60 miles southeast of Panama City, and directed the mine-sweeper USS Seer to the spot.

The Air Force refused to give up hope for the remaining crewmen. It speculated that heavy tides might have carried any other survivors several miles from the spot where the plane came down.

Observers on other planes out of Eglin Air Force Base which were flying near the B17 at the time it was hit said they saw four chutes open.

A large force of air and surface rescue craft ranged over a wide area of the gulf searching for remaining crewmen.

The rocket which sent the B17 plunging was fired by the pilot of an F6D. This is the Air Force's newest all-weather fighter, which has been undergoing operational suitability tests at the air proving ground at Eglin before being placed in combat service.

The Air Force said the pilot, Col. Arthur R. Debolt, 39, of Columbus, O., apparently mistook the B17 "mother" plane for an uninhabited radio controlled drone which it was guiding. The drone, which was to have been the target, was about a mile and a half behind.

Col. Debolt, described by the Air Force in Washington as "an exceptional officer," was grief stricken at the error, and said he was unable to explain it.

Three County Doctors Called For Preinduction Physicals

Priority 3 Men Called For Exams

At least three Monroe County doctors—all physicians in Priority 3 under Selective Service regulations—will go to the Wilkes-Barre Induction Station on Sept. 4 for preinduction physical examinations.

Priority 3, according to Lt. Col. Frank J. Graf, deputy State director of Selective Service, involves those without military service after Sept. 16, 1940 and who are less than 31 years old.

Doctors, Graf said, are in extreme shortage in all branches of the armed services. By doctors, he emphasized, Selective Service means physicians, dentists and veterinarians.

Col. Graf was unable to state how many Monroe County physicians would report for preinduction physicals, nor would the headquarters of the local Selective Service.

A survey outside these official channels, however, indicated that at least three local physicians have been notified to report for their preinduction physical.

Col. Graf said actual induction is unlikely. He noted that only two doctors in the entire state have been actually drafted.

Once a doctor passes his preinduction physical, he usually accepts the opportunity to take a commission in some branch of the armed services.

Monday about 50 doctors from other counties under the jurisdiction of the Wilkes-Barre Induction Station underwent tests at Wilkes-Barre.

Col. Graf said the "doctor's draft" involved special registration of doctors. They are known as "special registrants."

Local Selective Service headquarters said those in Priority 3 and 4 registered Jan. 15, 1951. Those in Priorities 1 and 2 registered in October, 1950.

The priority is based on previous military service and length of service.

Prisoner Gets Stuck Trying To Make Escape

Cassopolis, Mich., (AP) — Robert Miller was half in and half out of Cass County jail yesterday, the result of an escape attempt that failed.

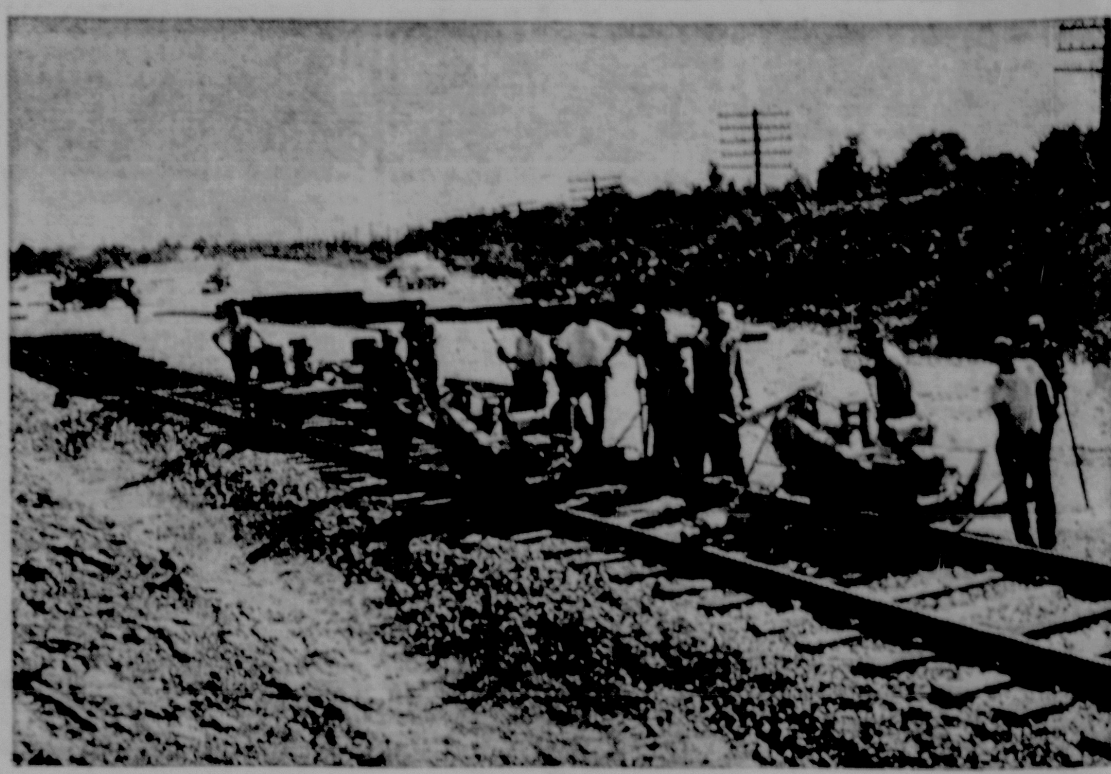

The 22-year-old had check passer, who was serving a 60-day jail sentence, removed one bar from his cell window Monday night and tried to squeeze through.

He eased his head and shoulders out, then got wedged tight and remained in his embarrassing position overnight.

Sheriff Edgar Probst who discovered Miller's plight yesterday was in no particular hurry about freeing him.

"He's not going anywhere," chuckled the sheriff, as he watched his prisoner still squirming while prison officials prepared to saw him loose.

Civil Defense Sets Goal For Radio Network

Civil Defense in Monroe County took a step further toward realization of its pending county-wide radio network, said in a letter to local directors, the goal should be to have four radio operators available for each station to permit manning on a 24-hour basis if necessary.

Ernest Transue, in charge of the CD net, said in a letter to local directors, the goal should be to have four radio operators available for each station to permit manning on a 24-hour basis if necessary.

Some of the following points were made: operating frequency for the CD net will be 29,620 kilocycles; initial installation and tuning of stations must be done by licensed radio operators; after the net is operating, there will be periodic drills to give operators practical on-the-air experience; prospective operators may get licenses by attending two or three classes and receiving non-technical instruction; a school for prospective operators will be set up shortly.

Primary Class Children Visit Wild Animal Farm

The Primary Class of Grace Lutheran Sunday School, East Stroudsburg, visited the Pocono Wild Animal Farm on Foxtown Hill yesterday afternoon. Mrs. James E. Construction Of Railroad Track Under Way At Signal Corps Depot In Tobyhanna

Tobyhanna—Installation of 10 miles of railroad track at the $33,000,000 U.S. Signal Corps supply depot here moved into high gear this week with 35 employees of T. F. Scholes Co., Reading, maneuvering railroad construction equipment into place.

Work already has started on the first stretch of track in the railroad yard which, when completed, will find eight separate branches.

Two main turnouts will divert traffic to the main warehouse center where individual tracks will swing out to the seven supply buildings. The contract for Scholes is for $604,855.

Scholes activities are being directed by Lester Deppen, general superintendent. As work progresses it is expected more employees will be moved to the site, once a huge swamp land and pond which now is a solid mass of heavy soil, moved there by Rochez Bros.

Rochez Bros., East Pittsburgh contractors in charge of the first phase of work, that of clearing and leveling the land, were expected to finish by Sept. 1. The time for completion of their work has now been moved back to late September.

A demolition team from Rochez Bros. late yesterday afternoon set off a dynamite charge that ripped tons of rock and dirt from the earth. The operation called for opening a drainage line in the swampy land and 150 pounds of powder were used in the explosion. Charges were set 18 inches apart, implanted in the swampy marsh and a one-cap explosion set off the chain fire. The drain is expected to clear the remaining section of the swamp, making it free of water and feasible for heavy equipment to move over.

Work on the four warehouses is continuing, with the first structure nearly complete. Oct. 1 was originally set for finishing this first building.

In the second warehouse workmen are finishing the roof, and steel bracing is being set up in the third building. With the foundation laid in the last of the four warehouses ready, crews are expected to begin the steel erection shortly. All four warehouses, each 200 feet by 1200 feet, are scheduled for completion by Jan. 1, 1953.

Another operation scheduled to commence almost momentarily is that of constructing a large reservoir which will be fed by two pipe lines. A third line will carry water to the buildings about 4,800 feet away.

Three Enter Guilty Pleas To Larcenies

Three young men pleaded guilty in Monroe County Court yesterday to burglary and larcenies charged to them by State and Stroudsburg borough police.

The three, Joseph Miller, 22, of 24 E. Broad St., East Stroudsburg; Richard LaBar, 20, of 247 Harris St., East Stroudsburg; and Harry Zeluth, 19, Portland, were arrested last month and committed to county jail July 30.

President Judge Clarence E. Bodie, sitting for President Judge Fred W. Davis, accepted the guilty pleas but deferred sentencing on all of the charges. The three men were ordered held in jail.

The first charge presented by District Attorney Elmer D. Christine was one of larceny, against Miller and LaBar. They admitted stealing six sections of radiator and two used tires—worth a total of $30—from the George Driebe lot on Third St., Stroudsburg, last month.

The second larceny charge against Miller and LaBar involved the theft of some steam shovel parts, motor oil, and 15 gallons of gasoline—worth a total of $17—from the State Highway Department stockyard near the General Hospital last month.

The second larceny charge against Miller and LaBar involved the theft of some steam shovel parts, motor oil, and 15 gallons of gasoline—worth a total of $17—from the State Highway Department stockyard near the General Hospital last month.

Miller and LaBar said they would plead guilty, but not to "no 15 gallons of gas."

When questioned, they explained yes, they'd taken those other things but they hadn't stolen any gas. The charge was amended to exclude the gasoline and both men signed the guilty pleas.

Then the two pleaded guilty of a charge of burglary—the theft of 49 used batteries from Rubin's storage shed on Palmer Alley, Stroudsburg. The batteries were valued at $90. Answering a question by the court, the two men explained that they sold the batteries for cash.

At this point Zeluth was called to stand alongside Miller and LaBar before the judge. The three were accused of stealing five tires and two batteries from the Max Bloom used car lot on Route 209, Stroudsburg RD 2. The goods stolen were valued at $35, Mr. Christine said. The three pleaded guilty to the charge.

After sentencing was deferred "until the court has a chance to investigate," the three were returned to the county jail by Sheriff Jacob Altomene and Deputy William Knowles.

The three were arrested by Stroudsburg State Troopers Alex G. Kearn and Ed Benesi, working in cooperation with Stroudsburg Police Chief James McConnell, East Stroudsburg Police Chief Arthur Swink, Delaware Water Gap Chief Fred Decker and Portland Chief Jesse Felker.

Eleven other theft charges against the three which had been filed after their arrest were not brought up at yesterday's court session. The thefts occurred in both Monroe County and neighboring areas.

The local director said the home is maintained by Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges throughout the 24-county region of the state which comprises Monroe County.

Not only children of Odd Fellows but others are now cared for and trained at the orphanage.

Parolee Surprises Court By Requesting That He Not Be Sent Back To Camp Hill

John Safin, 24, a Camp Hill State Industrial School parolee, pleaded guilty in Monroe County Court yesterday to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident, then surprised the court with a request.

Safin asked if he could be sent to the penitentiary instead of back to Camp Hill.

Parole Officer Harry Meiss, Wilkes-Barre, who was standing next to Safin, murmured that he was sure the parole board would oblige him.

Safin told the court he was guilty of failing to stop and identify himself at the scene of an Oct. 9, 1951 accident at Pocono Summit, and of failing to aid the two men in the other car who suffered cuts and bruises.

Pfc. Homer Jones of the Mount Pocono State police recited details of the accident in response to a request from President Judge Clarence E. Bodie.

Jones said that after the collision, Safin drove his car into the woods a quarter mile farther on, walked back to the highway and hitchhiked home. Then Safin continued on to Texas. He returned to Monroe County Aug. 10 this year and was arrested on a warrant by East Stroudsburg police, Jones said.

"What have you to say for yourself?" Judge Bodie asked.

"I was on parole, and I was afraid of getting sent back," Safin said.

"Didn't you realize that failing to stop would make things worse?" asked the judge.

"Sure . . . I thought of that after a while, but it was too late by then," Safin answered.

At this point Meiss stepped in to explain the reason for Safin being on parole. Meiss said Safin was charged originally with larceny, then with assault and battery against his wife. He was sentenced to Camp Hill for an indefinite period.

After he was freed on parole, Meiss said Safin violated the conditions of his parole by drinking and driving a car without permission. After Safin fled the accident scene, Meiss said the parole board issued a charge against him as a parole absconder.

Judge Bodie suspended sentence and ordered Safin returned to custody of the parole board. Meiss said he was sure Safin would be sent back to Camp Hill.

Questioned later, Safin explained his request only with the enigmatic statement that he didn't like Camp Hill.

FBI Arrests Pittston Man For Extortion

Wilkes-Barre (AP) — The FBI yesterday arrested an unemployed coal miner on a charge of extortion involving a United Mine Workers official who was killed in an auto explosion almost a year ago.

Arrested was Louis Shandra, 43, of nearby Pittston. He was accused of demanding $2,000 from Charles Louis Mecadon, 50, Pittston, under threat to his life last October.

Mecadon, a Pittston Township justice of the peace and president of UMW Local 8005, was killed Oct. 27 when his automobile was shattered by a mysterious explosion.

Arthur Cornelius Jr., special agent in charge of the Philadelphia FBI office, said Mecadon received a threatening letter the day he died. A 10-month investigation resulted in the arrest of Shandra.

The second annual homecoming will be held August 31 at the Odd Fellows-operated Sunbury Orphanage, William R. Laise, E. Stroudsburg, a director of the institution and grand lodge representative said yesterday.

Mr. Laise said Odd Fellows and Rebekahs have been urged to attend. A basket picnic on the grounds outside Sunbury on Route 242 will be staged.

The local director said the home is maintained by Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges throughout the 24-county region of the state which comprises Monroe County.

Not only children of Odd Fellows but others are now cared for and trained at the orphanage.

Ludwig Pleads Guilty To Chicken Thefts

A plea of guilty of stealing chickens was entered in county court yesterday by Albert Ludwig, 31, East Stroudsburg RD2.

As Ludwig, who was jailed a month ago on the charge, stood before President Judge Clarence E. Bodie, District Attorney Elmer D. Christine read the charge—stealing 13 Leghorn chickens from the henhouse of Mrs. Grace Posten, East Stroudsburg RD2.

Ludwig told the court he was pleading guilty of stealing seven chickens, but not 13. The court accepted this plea to the burglary charge.

Asked if he had "ever been in trouble before," Ludwig said firmly, "I never stole in my life."

Pfc. Alex G. Kearn, of the Stroudsburg State police, who arrested Ludwig, mentioned a previous commitment to the county jail on charges of assault and battery by Ludwig against his wife's mother. The charges were withdrawn the following day, it was pointed out.

Judge Bodie deferred sentencing and Ludwig was returned to the county jail.

Citizenship Duties Noted In Address

Stroudsburg Lions, meeting last night at Glen Brook Country Club, honored the birthday of a veteran member, Dr. James Gavin, and heard a lecture on the duties of citizenship by Francis Glick, lighting consultant of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co.

The speaker emphasized the duties of citizenship, particularly in intelligent voting and gave figures on the number of votes cast in America at various elections. He urged all to be sure of their personal registration and to try to get persons, who are neglecting this important duty, to attend to it. He also pointed out that intelligent balancing of the qualifications of candidates and understanding public issues must be attended to by the citizen to make good government possible. He advocated the formation of volunteer civic organization such as good government leagues.

He illustrated his talk by displaying slogans on a blackboard.

John Regan, who has been in California on Naval duty was, welcomed back.

A Lion from the Pacific Coast, who is also a district governor, was welcomed. He is Ivan N. Koeber, known as "Ink" and he comes from Portland, Ore. With him was Harold Kennisite of Nanticoke.

President Harry Phillips announced the birthday of Dr. Gavin, who was presented with a birthday cake.

The club was informed that Orren Stiff, recognizing the services of Gary Goldschneider, who played the piano at the meeting of the club two weeks ago at Bartonville Hotel, had presented the young man with a cake.

Report was received covering another club activity, the awarding of prizes and serving of refreshments at the East Stroudsburg playground and pool. This event was signally successful.

The program was in charge of Program Chairman Howard Atwell, who announced the lecture subject as "The Power of Your Vote."

Announcement was made that former President Arthur Bartron of the Portland Club is in the hospital at present as the result of a fall. A card of sympathy signed by all club members was prepared and will be sent him.

Elton Hall reported that the International Queen of Lionism, Miss Melrose Hoffman of Condale will be tendered a reception at the Condale High School and he requested local members to attend.

"All my life I've wanted to own a Buick"

Power Steering now available on Super as well as Roadmaster—optional at extra cost.

It seems that owning a Buick is something that a lot of folks dream about—plan for—and finally do.

We say that because, so many times, they say so in words like those above.

Those words make us happy, of course—happy to know we sell a car which means so much to those who own it.

But they make us feel just a little bit sad as well—sad to realize all the years of fun such folks have been missing for no good reason at all.

For the fact is this:

If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick.

You can afford the thrill of bossing around that big Fireball 8 Engine that purrs forth a mighty flow of power.

You can afford the gas bills—as any owner of a 1952 Buick will tell you—because that high-compression, valve-in-head marvel gets a lot of miles from a gallon of fuel.

You can afford the extra luxury of a real million dollar ride—the silken smoothness of Dynaflo Drive*—the extra room and comfort and style that have put Buick popularity right up at the top of the list, next to the "low-priced three."

So if you want to own a Buick—there's just one thing to do:

Come in—pick the one of your choice—

THE CAPE has a two bedroom plan that can be easily expanded into a three bedroom plan by adding a rear bedroom as indicated. There is a full basement, with stairs leading from the rear entry, a combination kitchen-dinette, a large living room with fireplace and corner picture window, two bedrooms, bath and covered entrance.

Storage is amply provided for in wardrobes in bedrooms, linen and general closet in hall and coat closets at the entrances. Refrigerator and sink are built into the exterior wall cabinets and the range on opposite wall.

Exterior walls are finished with wide siding except that brick facing is used on the living room wall from the fireplace to entrance.

Dimensions are 26 feet by 40 feet. Area is 972 square feet with a cubage of 18,954.

ing Bureau of Canada, Box 1193, St. John's, New Brunswick.

Innovations Improve Home; Utility Rooms Show Progress

The past two decades have witnessed more and greater improvements in room design and equipment than any other like period in the history of this country. Nowhere in the home has the progress noted been as extensive as in utility rooms, kitchen and bath.

In the typical kitchen of homes built at or about the turn of the century the sink was usually located on one side of the kitchen and the stove across from it. The ice box was kept out on a porch in most cases. The number of steps necessary in the preparation of three meals was amazing and tiring. Today, by planned arrangement, the chores of the kitchen have been made easy.

Homes of 20 or more years ago had, in most cases, only one bath, no matter how large the family. The tub was cast iron with a thin, easy-to-crack coat of porcelain.

The modern-planned bathroom has built-in cabinets flush with the wall, handsome fixtures, comfortable tub and shower, and ample dressing-room space. Today the average home boasts of more than one bath if there are more than two bedrooms. The presence of the downstairs lavatory means greater convenience and uses space that in most cases would otherwise be wasted.

Britain's schools of law, called the Inns of Court, were damaged in the great London Fire of 1696 and by bombs in World War Two.

Wax Keeps Light Woodwork Clean

If you have trouble keeping woodwork painted in light colors in presentable condition, because of children's finger marks or other causes, wash it well, let dry, and apply a coating of paste wax. When the wax is dry, rub it well. This treatment will make the surface less vulnerable to soil.

Home Can Be Same As Plan; Landscaping Factor Vital

Just what is the relationship between an architect's drawing of a home to be built and the finished house? In other words... will the house look as good as the picture? Is it safe to decide on a home to be built from a drawing? Is it safe to select a new home from a plan book? How can the new home-builder best avoid disappointment?

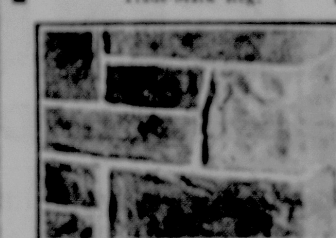

House drawings made by most designers and house pictures, illustrated in most plan books and magazines are "perspectives"... that is, illustrations made from an angle viewpoint which shows parts of two walls of a building.

Just as working plans for the building of a house are made in "scale" so that parts are shown in proper size relationship, so, too, a "perspective" drawing can be plotted to accurate scale and, with the aid of a mechanical vanishing point diagram, be so drawn that it is as correct in proportions as a photograph of the finished house taken at the same viewpoint.

should be entered through a small foyer, in which outer garments may be removed and which acts as a buffer against direct intrusion into the living space. Where this is not possible, the entrance to the room should be at the end of the room opposite the windows.

The necessity of passing diagonally through the living room to reach other rooms of the house should be avoided.

Mr. Frable attended Potomac Township High School, Kresgeville, for two years before entering the U. S. Army Air Corps in which he served from 1946 to 1949. He is now employed by Mahlon Livengood Inc., construction company, Berlinville.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

This last week of summer in the Poconos is composed of anything but lazy days. There's the West End Fair today, and a play in Cherry Valley and a book review in Barrett on Friday, and everybody getting set for the weekend weddings, and let the summer tourists get along the best they can.

Going to make for terrific confusion, saying goodbye to summer at the front door and hello to fall at the back door, at the same time.

This is the week when the children are trying to squeeze every last drop of sunshine out of their freedom, and you're trying to grab hold of them long enough to have them fitted for school shoes and shorn of a Summer's growth of sun-bleached hair.

This is the week when you try to get in the last golf luncheon and the first entirely empty ironing basket; eat the last of the peaches and make jam of the first of the grapes.

It's the time of year when you start out with a wool skirt and your warmest sweater in the morning and come dragging home at noon practically baked.

It's the season when you know you should be brisk and bustling but there's enough of vacation languor still hanging on to let you stand gawping up at the seafaring coming down from the new church steeple, and peering in at the floor finally covering that big excavation at Sixth and Main.

It's the time of year when you're ashamed to be seen on the street with a child whose arms and legs stick out a mile from clothes that were all right the last time you looked at them. A wonderful time.

Mrs. Ann Frederick Marks Her 90th Birthday Today

Today, Mrs. Ann Frederick, of Water Gap, is ninety years old. Mrs. Frederick was born at Laurel Hill near Slateford, the daughter of Barnett and Susan Lambert. She was the eldest of twelve children, nine boys and three girls. Six are still living: Mrs. Frederick, Mrs. Friend Akers, Edward and Thomas Lambert, all of Water Gap; Herman Lambert, of Easton, and Harry Lambert, of East Stroudsburg.

When Ann was twenty-two she was married to Millard Frederick, who was a slate shaver at the Water Gap slate quarry. She has a son, Horace Frederick, of Washington, D. C., and a daughter, Mrs. Charles Rapp, with whom Mrs. Frederick has made her home since the death of her husband. There are three grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Mrs. Frederick has kept young by her sympathetic interest in people. She has a remarkable memory for names and faces, and a ready humor, which gains her friends far and near, whose lives she follows with keen interest. When young, she and two brothers had scarlet fever and each gradually lost hearing; but she reads lips and is very much aware of what is going on in the borough.

She recalls when the Dutats and Staples and Fenners, McCarty's, and Brodheads made up of the population of the Gap; when there were only two or three houses on Main Street and folks had to carry all their water from a pump along the street near where the White Pave now stands; when the Glenwood and Riverview Houses were practically colleges, and the public school was up by the cemetery. In those days cows, sheep and pigs roamed the roads and unpaved streets. She gaily tells how one old cow climbed steps to their yard to eat apples.

One thing was far better in those days, she says, reporting that almost everyone went to church. She tells how crowded the Methodist Church was, as also the Presbyterian—Sunday morning and evening, how the hotels sent busloads of guests to those services. She has been a faithful attendant at the Methodist Church even when loss of hearing took away much that she received in church. Many a young minister was heartened by her cheery presence. She was a charter member of the Ladies Aid Society and still attends its WSCS meetings.

When asked her most exciting experience, she laughed so heartily it was difficult for her to answer. She said she did not move to the Gap—then called Dutot's Gap—until she was fifteen; but when quite young, she and a brother walked up from Slateford without parental permission. Near the Kittatiny Hotel they saw, for the first time, people of another race and color and were frightened. Even more alarming to them was a queer little railroad engine that belched smoke from its wood fire. This caught up to them when they walked beside the tracks to go home; and frightened Mrs. Frederick into clambering up the retaining wall to get farther away from it.

She loves flowers, and they bloom prodigiously for her. Of her ten African Violets, she knows who gave each to her and when and how often each one has bloomed. She keeps up with styles in dresses and hats, and made herself a new dress and fancy aprons in the spring. Her daily pleasure is to read The Daily Record and she never misses a word in it, though now she needs the aid of a magnifying glass.

Mrs. Haney Has A Party

Sciota—Mrs. Roderick Haney, of Sciota, was hostess at a demonstration at her home on Wednesday night.

Those present were Mrs. Norman Courtright, Mrs. Elmer Waltz, Mrs. Norman Courtright Jr., of Hamilton Square, Mrs. Jane Hobbs, Mrs. Annie Haney and Mrs. Sarah Bentzoni, all of Sciota, and Mrs. William Gougher of Stokes Mill.

Faculty Members At Workshop At Gettysburg

Mrs. Miriam Kerns and Mrs. Anna Meixell of the Stroudsburg faculty have returned after a week's workshop conference at Gettysburg Seminary, Gettysburg, when they joined teachers from 11 other states.

Highlighting the conference was a tour of the battleground and a study of the battle of Gettysburg, personally conducted by Dr. Frederick Tilberg, of the National Park Commission.

Dr. W. Steinhauer, of Rutgers University, led the workshop on pupil-teacher and teacher-administrator relationship. Of particular interest to the local teachers was the fact that Dr. Steinhauer once taught at Tannersville.

Ethel Altemus, Harold Tittle Wed At Elkton

Miss Ethel Altemus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Altemus, of Wind Gap RD 1, and Harold Tittle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tittle, Saylorsburg RD 1, were married in a double ring ceremony on Saturday, August 23, at 12 o'clock at Elkton, Md. by Rev. Percy K. Lambert.

The bride wore a pink satin dress with nylon net and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. William Bonser, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and also wore a pink satin dress with nylon net and a corsage of pink roses. Owen Williams Jr., brother-in-law of the bride, was best man.

Mrs. Tittle is employed by the Imperial Shirt Co., West Bangor, and Mr. Tittle by Bangor Mills, Pen Argyl.

They are now making their home in Saylorsburg.

A wedding supper in honor of the newlyweds was given by Mr. and Mrs. William Bonser on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bonser. Those present were: Mrs. Russell Altemus, Mrs. Russell Behler, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bonser, Ninny, Rudy and Cathann Bonser, Mr. and Mrs. William Bonser and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tittle.

Cherry Valley Young Folks To Present Play

Cherry Valley—The young people of the Cherry Valley Methodist Church are putting the finishing touches on their play, "The Eighteen Carat Book" to be presented on Friday night, August 29, at 8.

Under the direction of Mrs. Helen Poortstra, the three-act comedy and mystery play will be presented at the Cherry Valley Church, under the auspices of the Cherry Valley Youth Fellowship.

Harold Shuler will play the role of the father; Shirley Stout of his teen-age daughter; and Ruth Heller of the colored cook, and Dan Heller of the chauffeur. Joan Armitage will be a maid and Henry Wells an unwelcome suitor.

Jeanne Poortstra and Sam Blakeslee will portray the comedy love interest; Howard Blakeslee, the mystery man. Other supporting members of the cast are Helen Poortstra, Verna Blakeslee and John Dennis.

The public is invited. A silver offering will be taken and refreshments will be sold.

Supper Tonight

The E. M. Walters Ladies Bible Class of Grace Lutheran Sunday School, East Stroudsburg, will hold its August meeting tonight in conjunction with a pot-luck supper at 6 p.m. in the social rooms of the parish house. J. F. Vullers is teacher and Mrs. Alice Butts is president of the class.

Phillies Bow To Cubs In Overtime, 3-2

Chicago (AP) — Doc Fondy, the Chicago Cubs' second best power hitter, used a one out single in the 13th inning off reliever Andy Hansen to give the Cubs a thrill-packed 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies yesterday.

Fondy's 35th run batted in of the season was carried home by "Hank" Sauer, whose ninth inning double effected a 2-2 tie.

Philadelphia scored both of its runs off starter Johnny Klippstein in the fourth. Mel Clark walked, and moved to third on Del Ennis' double.

Two Runs

Gran Hammer singled, scoring Clark as Ennis stopped at third. Forrest Burgess followed with a fly to Frank Baumholtz, and Ennis scored.

Starter Karl Drews had a five-single shutout going when the Cubs suddenly broke loose in the home ninth. Bob Addis fired a leadoff single, and Baumholtz's one-baser advanced him to third. Philadelphia

Walcott Predicts Win Over Marciano

Hawkinsville, N.J. (AP) — "The battles September 23 will be 'Jersey Joe' Walcott pitching and 'Rocky' Marciano catching," heavyweight champion Walcott said yesterday.

Walcott, who is training here for his title defense at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium next month, vowed that Marciano, the unbeaten Brockton, Mass., challenger, "won't hit me with those round-house swings."

Catcher

"They tell me 'Rocky' used to be a baseball catcher," said the champ. "Well, when he delivers a punch, he still looks as if he is throwing to second. I can see the punches from the stands."

Munger In Dark About Grid Squad

Philadelphia (AP) — Coach George Munger says he feels like a "fan in the stand" when sizing up his 1932 football team.

Statement

"We had no spring practice so all I know about our sophomores is what I read on the roster sheet. And it's those sophomores who will determine how well we do," says Munger.

Penn has 21 lettermen back, including last year's starting offensive backfield.

Maxim, Kearns Suspended By New York Ring Commission For Failure To Clash With Turpin

New York (AP) — The Athletic Commission yesterday suspended light heavyweight champion Joe Maxim until he goes through with a title defense against Britain's Randy Turpin in London.

The 30-year-old 175-pound king and his manager Jack Kearns, both were suspended indefinitely for their present refusal to defend the crown against Turpin in London this September under the promotion of England's Jack Solomons.

After hearing testimony from Solomons; Ted Waltham, general secretary of the British Boxing Board of Control; Kearns and others, the commission ruled unanimously that Maxim and Kearns had "refused to honor an agreement" to meet Turpin and declared their action "detrimental to the best interests of boxing."

No Doubt

Bob Christenberry, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, said he had no doubt that the suspensions would be honored by states which have working agreements with the New York commission. They include Michigan, Illinois, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maine, Missouri and Pennsylvania.

There had been talk that Maxim would defend his crown against Jake La Motta, the Bronx Bull, in Detroit this fall but Kearns said "We've got our thing in mind right now."

"I'm going to talk this whole matter over with a lawyer," said Kearns. "We're not trying to duck Turpin or anyone else. We had a contract to fight Don Cockell not Turpin—for Solomons. We'll fight Turpin or anyone else as long as our terms and conditions are met. We should get more money for fighting Turpin than Cockell. Cockell used to be our sparring partner. Turpin is rougher and tougher and a better gate attraction."

Columbia's Utility Man Plays Every Position

Columbia, S. C. (AP) — The resourceful gent who kept the box score for Monday night's Columbia-Jacksonville South Atlantic League baseball game solved a difficult problem by noting "Z-Played all positions" under the name of Columbia's Bill Jankowski.

He was so right. The feat was Jankowski's way of celebrating his "night" and the Red's first pennant in 31 years in the Sally League. Bill started by pitching a hitless first inning. In the second inning he went behind the plate. The third saw him play first base. He shifted position at the start of each inning until he had completed the circuit. At the end of each frame the wife of one of his teammates would present him a check— he picked up over $200 for the night's work.

Important Hit

And, to top it off, in the bottom of the ninth his two-run, two-out single kept alive the rally which brought the Reds to a 6-5 victory.

When the 27-year-old Wilmington, Del., hopeful reported at spring camp he was installed as second baseman until Larry Taylor checked in from college. Then Jankowski moved to first base and third. Later on he took a whirl at left field and right field. Four times Manager Ernie White called on him for relief pitching and one night last week he was asked to go the distance. He responded with a two-hitter. For the year he has a useful .288 batting average.

Somewhat, he'd overlooked catching, but finally got around to it for an inning last night. Despite all his swapping, he played errorless ball and collected two hits in four times at bat, scoring two runs and driving home two more.

Reiff Betters Record

Paris (AP) — Gaston Reiff of Belgium bettered the world two-mile record yesterday in an abbreviated international track meet here. His time was eight minutes 40.4 seconds. The listed world mark of 8:42.3 was set by Gunder Haegg of Sweden in Stockholm, August 4, 1944.

There is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to split out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 6. If the number is less than 6, add 6. The result is your key number. Write at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked numbers give you.

Martin Agrees With Ike On Defense Costs

New York (AP) — Sen. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania said yesterday he and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower "are in full agreement" about what the country can afford to spend for defense.

Martin made the comment after a long conference with the Republican presidential nominee, who is here to attend the American Legion convention.

The senior senator from Pennsylvania said he and the general agreed "We've got to make a very careful survey of what the United States can afford. It won't do us any good to win against aggression if we're going to be broke."

Martin said he thought the general had "some very good ideas about what we can afford in this country."

Commenting on reports that some Eisenhower leaders are dissatisfied with the way the general's presidential campaign is being conducted, Martin replied: "I think the campaign is being very well conducted. The pace at this time should be slow. You want the peak of the wave much later. You can't hit a high pitch and keep it going until November."

Speaking about GOP prospects in Pennsylvania, Martin said he felt that there was "no doubt the Republicans will carry the state." He added that any ill feeling between supporters of Eisenhower and Sen. Robert A. Taft had been put aside.

"I don't know a single Taft backer in Pennsylvania who is not now for Eisenhower," Martin added.

Martin added he hoped the general could make some speeches in Pennsylvania. But he added: "There are so many states in worse shape than we are that they have to be given consideration."

McDevitt Denounces Grundy As Obstacle To Increased Jobless Benefits In State

Harrisburg, (AP) — James M. McDevitt, president of the AFL-Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, said yesterday former Sen. Joseph R. Grundy is the "chief obstacle to adequate workmen's compensation benefits."

"If by some trick of fate we can get Mr. Grundy out of the workmen's compensation field, then we could get somewhere," he told the 15-member Democratic Platform Committee.

Grundy founded the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association which sells casualty insurance to employers through a subsidiary.

McDevitt said "some decent improvement" is needed in workmen's compensation and occupational disease benefits because of rising medical costs and the cost of living generally.

In 1951, the legislature increased maximum weekly payments by $5 to $30 a week after the AFL failed in its efforts to obtain a $10 boost. The AFL president said Grundy's influence on legislators was responsible.

McDevitt's statement highlighted a 2½-hour public hearing by Democrats who were seeking suggestions for a platform to be used by state-wide and legislative candidates in the coming campaign.

The committee meets here Sept. 4 to act on the proposals which also included one from the Pennsylvania Medical Society to repudiate a plank in the Democratic national platform which, it said, could lead to socialized medicine or compulsory health insurance.

McDevitt was joined by Harry Boyer, president of the State CIO Council, in opposing a flat income tax, although they would support a graduated income level similar to the federal income tax. An amendment to the state constitution would be necessary to enact a graduated income tax law.

Boyer suggested a plank calling for compulsory registration of the voting age to 18.

The CIO, he added, also favors a strong FEPC bill banning job discrimination because of race, creed, color or national origin but would not back "poor, weak legislation."

Dr. Jesse Reber, acting general secretary of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches, spoke in behalf of the state council for an FEPC and urged a stiff law with teeth to enforce anti-job discrimination.

"Mac," a prefix on many Scottish and Irish names, is a Gaelic word which means son.

Dr. Denning's office will be closed August 23rd to September 3rd.

School Site Transferred To Authority

The Hamilton Township school district has transferred to the State Public School Building Authority the 9.57-acre tract which will be the site of the township's new elementary school, according to deeds recorded yesterday at the courthouse.

The deed was recorded by Forest Mervine, Hamilton school district solicitor.

The property is on Route 12 a short distance south of Scotia.

The office of Recorder Floyd Butz said this was the first time a school district in the county had transferred a school site to the State Authority in order to have a school built. The move is based on a 1949 act.

The State will erect the school, then rent it to the school district until the construction costs are paid back. Then the school will revert to the school district.

Other deeds recorded:

Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Snyder, Stroud Township, to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Levy Jr., Stroudsburg, a Stroud Township property on the Stroudsburg-Analokin road adjoining land of Henry F. Behrens.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Weingartner, Hamilton Township, to Mr. and Mrs. James Schwartz, Wynote, Pa., four lots in Hamilton Township.

Weaving, Pottery-Making Taught In Old Landmark

By James B. Gaffney

While only in production during the summer months, a combination school and business establishment in the heart of Bushkill is recognized as an area leader in its field and considered an industrial development, since both owners produce material from raw products.

Mrs. Edith Friedman and Mrs. John Clapp began their enterprise eight years ago and have enjoyed success annually. The former hand weaves many articles while Mrs. Clapp makes pottery and paints her own designs.

In a frame building located near the bridge at the west end of the community, the operations continue daily in an auspicious manner. The structure itself is a landmark, reputed to have been built 170 years ago and utilized as a flour mill. Even today there is tangible evidence of the flour business, with equipment and storage chutes prominently displayed. It is this historic background which makes browsing around the building even more entertaining.

Both women conduct special classes for children and adults desirous of learning the weaving and pottery trade. Mrs. Friedman conveys her unlimited ability to pupils right on the site and while some pupils furnish their own table looms, she also makes available the equipment she keeps in the building and at her home, three miles from the community.

Mrs. Clapp, an artist in her own right, holds classes in pottery-making each Wednesday. The morning is devoted to children and afternoon sessions cater to adults.

Three electric kilns are on location for production which includes chest sets, vases, bowls, animals, ash trays, jewelry and what-nots. She also secures other articles from the Monroe County firm Design Techniques, which operates near Snyder'sville on a large scale.

Mrs. Clapp's daughter, Mrs. Marcia Clapp DeRocco, is following in her mother's footsteps and holds special classes at Unity House.

In addition to teaching the tourists pottery making, she also is an accomplished painter and conveys her impressions to her pupils.

The hand looms operated by Mrs. Friedman turn out many articles, the most popular of which are hand bags and stoles, at present. She also makes aprons, rugs, guest towels, linens, and place mats, both modern and conventional. Mrs. Friedman uses nylon, metallic material, wool, cotton, rayon and a mixture of each as she operates by hand her precision equipment.

The combined businesses commence operations and retail sales Memorial Day and will conclude their seasonal production about Sept. 15. The classes which each woman conducts make their business unique, in every respect, for it is seldom that the arts are made available to the public, and on such short notice. In the matter of a few hours, some one passing through Bushkill can learn the intricate phases of both arts and apply them to their benefit back home.
